Dear IRCC Officer,

I hope this letter finds you well. Thank you for the opportunity to clarify your concerns regarding changes in my selected NOC code for my foreign work experience in my permanent residence application with application number E003805930, in comparison to a previous application created with application number E002492498.

In this letter, I have included the following:

1. Reason for difference in NOC code at the point of submission of my permanent residence application.
2. Accurate timelines of foreign work experience.
3. Supporting Documents with images of communications with colleagues at Federal Inland Revenue Service (FIRS) alongside files worked during my time there to further justify my NOC code change for the Canadian Experience Class (CEC) program I applied to on December 15, 2025.
4. Additional screen shoots of acceptance letters from Office Machines Nigeria Limited, communication with colleagues at Office Machines Nigeria Limited and screenshots to support timelines provided.

I have created a google drive link including all additional supporting documents for your review.
Google Drive Link: IRCC Document Review

1. Reason for NOC code change in 2025

E002492498 – In 2022, I had newly been introduced to the express entry program and upon setting up my profile I was unfamiliar of how the NOC code system worked. The NOC code 21730 selected on my application at the time was solely based on my educational background and previous experiences I believed aligned with my background. After creating this express entry profile, it was deemed ineligible, and further action was taken from my end in consideration of permanent residency in Canada. From the timeline included I realize I had included my 6-months internship at Office Machine Nigerian Limited from March 2019 to August 2019 where I was assigned to work with the Technical Leads (.ie. Iveren Jennifer A. Igbudu and Emeka Megwa) in delivering a Customer Complaint Handling System for the Nigerian Electricity Regulatory Commission. (. i.e. please see communication with technical leads in section 3 below for your reference).

Furthermore, while working at the Federal Inland Revenue Service (FIRS) from March 2021 – March 2022, I was involved in the migration tax records to their newly deployed

Tax Pro Max software and also the maintenance and coordination of tax records which at the time, made me to believe these duties aligned more with a Software Engineer.
(. i.e. please see communication with colleague at FIRS below for your reference)
E003805930 – In 2025, having done my due diligence in learning more about the Canadian Immigration System and how NOC codes apply from the official website and various online communities. I discovered my error in my previously selected NOC code after reviewing my job duties more closely.
Thus, while making my most recent permanent residence application, I decided to correct my error and select a NOC code (i.e. NOC 13110) more consistent with my duties to avoid any form of misrepresentation as I understand this is a serious offence with serious consequences when making an application to Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC).

Additionally, this correction made in my NOC code resulted in the update of timelines for my work experience under the program I applied to. I am aware an internship less than one year does not count towards work experience, hence the reason for only including work experience with FIRS with my corrected NOC code.

I understand that the combined experience indicated in my application with application number E002492498 and the updated timeline still leaves room between September 2019 – February 2021. From September 2019 – October 2020, I returned to school to complete my bachelor's degree in computer science where I researched on Business Intelligence systems and built a web application (please see references in section 3) which I did not include as my work experience to avoid any form of misrepresentation. Please see below timeline for your reference.

2. Accurate Timeline

March 2019 – August 2019	Internship at Office Machines Nigeria Limited (OMNL)
September 2019 – October 2020	Completion of bachelor's degree in computer science – Research in Business Intelligence
November 2020 – February 2021	Unemployed
March 2021 – March 2022	National Youth Service (NYSC) at Federal Inland Revenue Service (FIRS)

3. Supporting Document

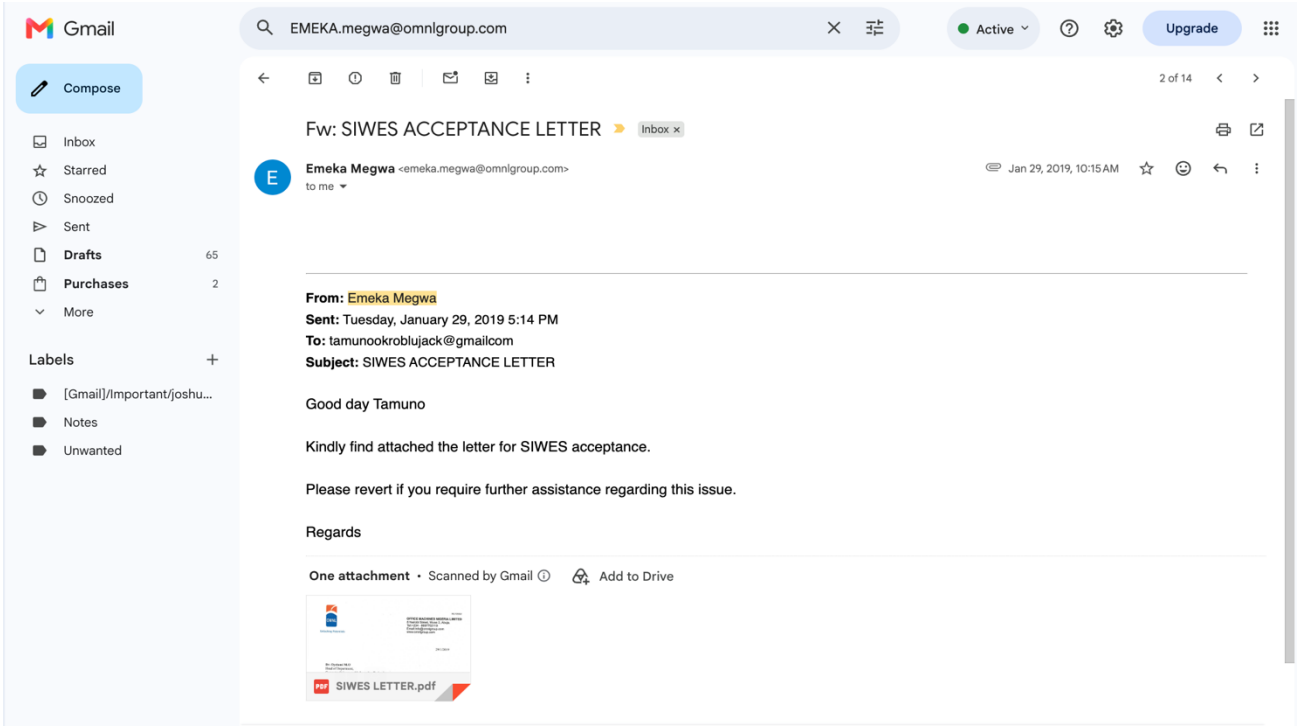

I sincerely apologise for any concerns raised from my previous application with application number E002492498 made in 2022 and respectfully ask that these supporting documents be accepted in good faith to provide clarity to your concerns and support the validity of my application for permanent residence with application number E003805930 made in 2025.
